EURASIP Conference/Workshop Co-sponsorship Agreement

The signing conference/workshop organizer (chair) and EURASIP, represented by its Director for Technical Programs and Membership, agree to the following conditions.

EURASIP logo: The EURASIP logo will appear on the ‘Call for Papers’ or ‘Conference/Workshop Announcement’, on the conference/workshop proceedings, on the web page of the conference/workshop, on the CD cover and on the CD, as well as on all other printed material (conference/workshop guide/conference notes, etc.).

Advertisement: EURASIP will offer free advertisement space for the conference/workshop in the EURASIP e-Newsletter and in the EURASIP web pages. The conference/workshop organizer will provide the EURASIP Director for Technical Programs and Membership with a one page ‘Call for Papers’ or ‘Workshop/Conference Announcement’ (PDF, 211.7*279.4 mm or 600*792 points) well in advance of the event.

Quality: The conference/workshop organizer will accept papers for presentation at the conference/workshop only after peer-review by a qualified board of reviewers. The conference/workshop organizer commits to targeting the following paper rejection rates (excluding invited submissions): 30% rejection rate for conferences/workshops with up to 50 participants, 40% rejection rate for conferences/workshops with up to 200 participants, 50% rejection rate for conferences/workshops with more than 200 participants. The final rejection rate is to be reported to the EURASIP Director for Technical Programs and Membership. The summer school should be conducted by scientific authorities in the fields of signal and image processing.

Plagiarism: The conference/workshop organizer will take appropriate measures against plagiarism and dual submission (self-plagiarism). If a case of plagiarism or self-plagiarism is detected, the conference/workshop organizer will inform the EURASIP Director for Technical Programs and Membership immediately.

Proceedings/Open Access: EURASIP is encouraging a wide dissemination of the papers published in the co-sponsored workshops and conferences. As a consequence, EURASIP is offering a free service for having open access papers available in the EURASIP archive, except when they will be made available in IEEE Xplore or on the organizer website (please check box¹).

- The proceedings will be made available in the EURASIP archive.
- The proceedings will be made available in IEEE Xplore.
- The proceedings will be made available on the organizer website

In order to have proceedings available in the EURASIP archive, the conference organizer will have to send the pdf files of the papers and the associated copyright forms to the EURASIP office (aldona.niemi-ro-sznajder@esat.kuleuven.be), or to ask each author of a paper to fill a

¹ It is normally not possible to have the proceedings available on both the EURASIP archive and IEEE Xplore for copyright issues.
